Second Amendment Foundation (SAF) social media message contains Kamala Harris quotes on gun bans

From the Tactical Wire.com

A new 15-second message from the Second Amendment Foundation (SAF) warning social media users of Vice President Kamala Harris' extremist positions on guns utilizes film clips of her announcing her intentions in her campaign for the presidency.

"We are finally going to pass universal background checks," says Harris as the message begins, followed by another remark a few seconds later in which she calls for a ban on so-called "assault weapons."

The short message shows the Second Amendment being blacked out from the Bill of Rights while audio of Harris' statements are heard in the background. Interspersed with the artwork are actual film clips of the vice president making the controversial remarks during what appear to be campaign speeches.

"We are finally going to pass universal background checks," says Harris as the message begins, followed by another remark a few seconds later in which she calls for a ban on so-called "assault weapons."

Banning an entire class of firearms has been a goal of the Biden-Harris administration for the past four years, and the recently-published Democrat Party

Platform declares, "Democrats will establish universal background checks. We will once again ban assault weapons and high-capacity magazines. We will require safe storage for guns. Democrats will end the gun industry's immunity from liability, so gunmakers can no longer escape accountability. We will pass a national red flag law to prevent tragedies by keeping weapons out of dangerous hands. We will increase funding to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (ATF) for enforcement and prosecution, and to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) for firearm background checks."

"We're not telling people to vote against Kamala Harris," said SAF founder and Executive Vice President Alan M. Gottlieb. "We're not even telling people to vote. We've simply captured the vice president's remarks and made them the core of an informational message we're sharing with our members and supporters via social media, on Facebook, 'X' and Truth Social."

"We're not telling people to vote against Kamala Harris," said SAF founder and Executive Vice President Alan M. Gottlieb. "We're not even telling people to vote. We've simply captured the core of an informational message we're sharing with our members and supporters via social media, on Facebook, 'X' and Truth Social."

The message is running on a YouTube format, and warns viewers, "Kamala Harris will take your guns," based on remarks she made back in 2019 advocating for "mandatory buyback" of semiautomatic firearms, which Gottlieb considers "compensated confiscation."

National Football League and Enthusiast Gaming announce Season 3 of NFL Tuesday Night Gaming

Season 3 to debut on September 3, ahead of NFL Kickoff

New season to feature revamped format to bring fans closer than ever to their favorite gaming creators and NFL players

NEW YORK and LOS ANGELES, August 27, 2024 – The National Football League (the "NFL") and Enthusiast Gaming Holdings Inc. ("Enthusiast Gaming" or the "Company") (TSX: EGLX) jointly announced today that the third season of the popular video game series, NFL Tuesday Night Gaming (NFL TNG), will debut on Sept. 3, 2024, on NFL TNG's YouTube with a brand-new show format that will bring fans closer than ever to the gaming creators and NFL stars they love.

"As 'NFL Tuesday Night Gaming' continues to build on its success, we're excited to showcase a revamped format that will capture even more fun moments between top gaming creators and NFL players," said Ed Kiang, vice president of video gaming at the NFL. "Collaborating with Enthusiast Gaming has enabled the NFL to deepen its reach across the gaming community and we expect season three to be our most popular yet."

The 26-episode season has evolved from a competitive, tournament-style storyline to a new lifestyle-focused content format that invites fans to discover more about the lives and personalities under the helmets and headsets. The format has been reimagined around the energy and hype of the couch co-op matchups from season one and season two, delivering what the gaming community connects with the most: personality-driven content, competitive fun and intimate interactions.

Also returning in season three for a total of five episodes is NFL Family Game Night (NFL FGN), a special NFL TNG mini-series targeted toward kids and parental co-viewing audiences. Each episode brings together NFL players, NFL Legends and their families to play family-friendly, brand-safe video games with gaming content creators. Jenny 'JennySmiles' Simile returns to NFL FGN as a host and will be joined this season by Wynndham 'Wynnsanity' Curtis, one of North America's largest mobile gaming content creators with over two million followers.

NFL TNG's season three debut episode follows the successful release of the special NFL Flag episode, live from the NFL Flag Championships in Canton, OH, and episode one of NFL FGN. These episodes combined for over 9,000,000 impressions.

"We're now entering a third season of our partnership with the National Football League, and it is evident that we are creating the captivating content that gaming audiences gravitate towards," said Adrian Montgomery, Board Chairman and Interim CEO of Enthusiast Gaming. "With our engaged communities, Enthusiast is uniquely positioned to create this content and integrate brands in meaningful ways."

Fans can tune in to NFL Tuesday Night Gaming every Tuesday during the 2024 NFL season on NFL TNG's YouTube channel. To learn more about NFL Tuesday Night Gaming, visit www.NFLTNG.com.
