"For Love of Country" by Tulsi Gabbard is now available at Amazon, Barnes & Noble, and Bookshop.org.

A Message from Skyhorse Publishing

Skyhorse Publishing is proud to have our author, Tulsi Gabbard, appointed as Director of U.S. Intelligence for the future Trump administration.

We are honored to have published Tulsi Gabbard's New York Times Bestselling book For Love of Country.

For Love of Country is her story and a call to action to Americans who love our country and cherish peace and freedom.

"Tulsi knows courage. She had the courage to serve our country. She had the courage to leave the Democrat Party. And now—in this book—has the courage to speak truth." —Pete Hegseth, Army veteran and Bronze Star Recipient

Praise For Love of Country

"Tulsi Gabbard is one of the bravest people in the United States—and if you doubt that, consider what she's lost for telling the truth about the most powerful people in the world." —Tucker Carlson

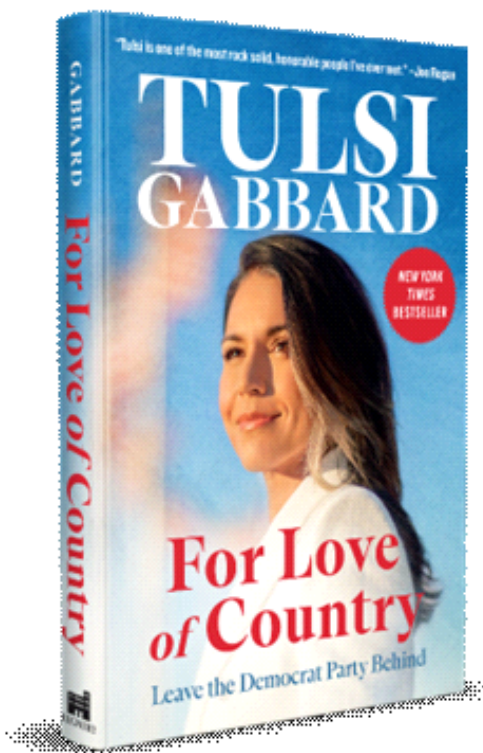

"Tulsi and I may not agree on everything politically, but we agree on the most important things: we love our country and are committed to defending freedom. I know Tulsi's heart, and have seen how she treats people with respect, regardless of their politics. I can always count on her to be honest, independent, and tough. All of those qualities come through in this book. Tulsi has written a gut-check that demands the attention of anyone who feels frustrated with the establishment and left behind. There is no doubt that what she says comes straight from the heart of a true patriot." —Meghan McCain

"Tulsi Gabbard is one of the most rock solid and honorable people I've ever met in my life. If the democrats and all the identity politics cult members really wanted a woman president, there's your girl. A veteran, deployed three times to war zones, who spent eight years serving in congress, with an impeccable record. But they didn't want anything to do with her, and it's entirely because of her uncompromising morals and character. Their baseless attacks on her and the blatant conspiring to keep her from ever getting close to the White House is one of the best pieces of evidence I've ever seen that the game is rigged, and all that woke bullshit they talk is just a long con to maintain power. I think she would make an amazing president, and I'm honored to call her a friend." —Joe Rogan

Tulsi is a truly independent truth-teller who deeply loves our country and is willing to fight for it! This book is a must read for all those who value freedom and are concerned about the direction of the nation. With individual rights and liberties under constant attack, Tulsi details what we must do to save the country we love and preserve individual freedoms for future generations. Tulsi bravely takes on the powers of permanent Washington and stands in the breach to defend our Constitution, and our right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. —Jack Carr, Navy SEAL Sniper and #1 New York Times Bestselling Author of Red Sky Mourning and Targeted: Beirut

"Tulsi knows courage. She had the courage to serve our country. She had the courage to leave the Democrat Party. And now—in this book—has the courage to speak truth." —Pete Hegseth, Army veteran and Bronze Star Recipient

Said in American Greatness:

"Since leaving the Democrats, Gabbard has become one of the most important voices in the nation. For Love of Country may be the most important book of 2024. If you read one political book this election year, make it this one."

"It's without any glee that Gabbard calls out the party she once proudly belonged to—the Democrats—as a party that has abandoned religious tolerance and become a party that seeks to undermine people of faith, and especially Christians, at every turn."

"She is a thoughtful leader and a skilled writer, a patriot who has put her life on the line for America, and a courageous warrior in the battle of ideas as America finds itself embroiled in a cold culture war."

Said in PJ Media:

"Gabbard pulls the lid off Congress and reveals it for what it truly is: a club of mostly very wealthy people who have abandoned their jobs in order to keep a hold on the influence and riches that come with their jobs."

"Gabbard's 'For Love of Country' is a deeply sobering read. The times we find ourselves in demand clear thinking, courage, and real American leadership. Gabbard provides all of that and more."

"Gabbard courageously spells out the precarious spot Americans find ourselves in."

Said in The American Spectator:

"America needs real champions of freedom. Tulsi Gabbard is... one of those champions. With this book, she has stepped up and accepted the challenge of fighting to save America from her former party, and we're better off for it."

"Gabbard's exposition of the Left's militant disdain and campaign against free speech couldn't be more timely. Or necessary, for that matter."

Said in Blaze Media:

"What Gabbard writes is simply true. The fact that this young lifelong military officer and public servant has the guts to say it clearly is honorable. Her words of warning speak to an America on the brink of a fundamental transformation into something no one should want. Gabbard's words of warning speak to an America on the brink of a fundamental transformation into something no one should want."

"Gabbard earned a reputation for telling the truth no matter the consequences and no matter who it upsets while she was in Congress. She cemented that reputation during her presidential run and after."

Said in Entrepreneur:

"Gabbard encourages individuals to be informed, hold leaders ac-

Judicial Watch sues for records on rebranding of West Point's Diversity, Equity, Inclusion (DEI) office

WASHINGTON, DC – Judicial Watch announced on March 13 it filed a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) lawsuit against the U.S. Department of Defense for information regarding the rebranding of West Point's Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) office to "Office of Engagement and Retention" (Judicial Watch Inc. v. U.S. Department of Defense (No. 1:24-cv-02941)). The suit was filed in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia after the United States Military Academy at West Point (a component of the Defense Department) failed to respond to an August 28, 2024, FOIA request for:

1. All documents related to the renaming of and/or elimination of West Point's "Office of Diversity, Inclusion and Equal Opportunity" (ODIEO).
2. All documents related to the creation of West Point's "Office of Engagement and Retention."
3. All emails related to the matters addressed in Bullets 1 and 2 sent to and from the following USMA officials: Superintendent LTG Steve Gilland, Dean BG Shane Reeves, Commandant BG R.J. Garcia, and Chief Diversity Officer Lisa Benitez. Reporting in August 2024 detailed the name change:

The West Point Office of "Diversity, Inclusion and Equal Opportunity" is now called the "Office of Engagement and Retention".... On the West Point page, there's not much change beyond the title ...
"It seems games are afoot at West Point to disguise its radical DEI agenda," said Judicial Watch President Tom Fitton. Recently, Judicial Watch sued on behalf of Stand Together Against Racism and Radicalism in the Services, Inc. (STARRS) against the U.S. Department of Defense for records regarding the U.S. Air Force Academy's diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) plans.

In June 2024, Judicial Watch sued the Defense Department for records regarding the deletion of the words "Duty, Honor, Country" from the United States Military Academy at West Point's mission statement.

In March 2023, records obtained by Judicial Watch from the Department of Defense showed the Air Force Academy has made race and gender instruction a top priority in the training of cadets. In July 2023, Judicial Watch exposed records from the United States Air Force Academy that included instructional materials and emails that address topics such as Critical Race Theory,

"white privilege," and Black Lives Matter.

In July 2022, Judicial Watch sued the Department of Defense for records related to the United States Naval Academy (USNA) implementing Critical Race Theory (CRT) in the training of naval recruits.

In June 2022, Judicial Watch received records revealing Critical Race Theory instruction at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point One training slide contains a graphic titled "MODERN-DAY SLAVERY IN THE USA." [Emphasis in original].
