TITANS RETURN TO NISSAN STADIUM AFTER LONDON TRIP AND BYE

The Titans enjoyed a Week 7 bye after traveling to London during the previous week to face the Baltimore Ravens at Tottenham Hotspur Stadium. In London, running back Derrick Henry rushed for 97 yards and a touchdown, and the Titans defense allowed only six points in the second half. However, the Ravens used six field goals by Justin Tucker, two takeaways and six sacks to defeat the Titans by a final score of 24-16.

of the third quarter due to an ankle injury. He was relieved by second-year signal caller Malik Willis, who played the entire fourth quarter and passed for 74 yards. Rookie Will Levis served as the third quarterback for the Titans for each of the first six games but has not seen action. Sunday’s matchup with the Falcons is the Titans’ only game they play at Nissan Stadium during a seven-week stretch. They defeated the Bengals on Oct. 1 in their last appearance there, and following this week, they have three consecutive road trips—at the Pittsburgh Steelers (Thursday, Nov. 2), at the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (Nov. 12) and at Jacksonville (Nov. 19)—before returning to Nissan Stadium to host the Carolina Panthers after Thanksgiving (Nov. 26).

THE FALCONS

Smith is in his third season as head coach of the Falcons after spending 10 seasons on Tennessee’s staff (2011–2020), including three years under Titans head coach Mike Vrabel. In 2019 and 2020, he served the Titans as offensive coordinator.

This season, Smith has the Falcons in first place in the NFC South through seven games. They earned their fourth win last week at division-rival Tampa Bay after Younghoe Koo made a 51-yard field goal as time expired to lift Atlanta to a 16-13 victory.

Quarterback Desmond Ridder was selected by the Falcons in the third round of the 2022 NFL Draft. He has started every game in his second season, passing for 1,630 yards and six touchdowns with six interceptions. Last week, Ridder’s 39-yard pass to tight end Kyle Pitts set up Koo’s game-winning field goal.
